Dear parents/carers,

The Angmering School's Ofsted report

I am delighted to attach the official Ofsted report following our recent Graded Inspection. As you will be aware the inspection took place on 11th and 12th October and involved 5 Ofsted inspectors looking at all aspects of the school's work.

Whilst I would encourage to read the whole report, I would like to share a few of the key messages with you:

The Angmering School is a consistently 'Good' school where "Leaders have created an environment that has a strong focus on learning and high quality pastoral care."

The school has now been graded as 'Good' in all Ofsted areas; Leadership, Quality of Education, Behaviour and Attitudes, Personal Development, Sixth Form and Overall Effectiveness.

The report praises leaders and other staff, saying "Leaders have worked tirelessly to improve the school since the previous inspection. They have designed an ambitious curriculum and a comprehensive training programme for staff." and that "Teachers ... support and challenge pupils. This motivates pupils to find out more about the different subjects and topics."

The inspection was not limited to work in the classroom either. The inspectors were impressed that "There is a wide range of extra curricular activities." and that "Leaders promote pupils' personal development very well, including in the sixth form."

The school's successful Sixth Form also came in for praise with inspectors noting that "In the sixth form, teachers develop students' independence by using well chosen activities" and noted that "Students discover what university life is like through trips to local universities."

Obviously all of our work is made easier because of the excellent support which we receive from you as parents/carers and I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for this. We are now looking to ensure that students and staff continue to have a positive experience and to find ways to share our good practise both within the school and with other local schools.

Kind regards,

Simon Liley,
Headteacher
