STUDENTS ENGAGE WITH GROUNDBREAKING HOLOCAUST 360 EXPERIENCE

Last week, 58 students from Years 9, 12, and 13 took part in the pioneering Holocaust 360 programme, delivered by the Holocaust Educational Trust. This incredible and innovative experience used immersive technology to deepen students' understanding of the Holocaust and its lasting impact.

Through a combination of virtual reality, survivor testimony, and interactive materials, students explored key historical sites, including Stutthof concentration camp, as if they were there. This powerful approach allowed them to see history come to life, making the realities of the Holocaust more tangible and meaningful.

The session also encouraged critical reflection, challenging students to consider the dangers of prejudice and discrimination in today around world. By engaging with Holocaust 360, our students not only gained a deeper historical knowledge but also developed a stronger sense of empathy and responsibility to stand up against hatred.

This experience is a vital part of our commitment to Holocaust education, ensuring that the lessons of the past continue to resonate with future generations.

WORLD
DAY

6 MARCH 2025

HAPPENING IN THE Library

WORLD BOOK DAY ALWAYS HAPPENS ON THE FIRST
THURSDAY OF MARCH, BUT OUR SCHOOL LIBRARY HAS BEEN CELEBRATING ALL WEEK

Students have flocked in to exchange their £1 World Book Day tokens for their choice of one of the special World Book Day titles. The Lego volume "Our Amazing Universe" proved to be particularly popular whilst many older students have opted for "This Story is a Lie" by Benjamin Dean. Other titles include "The Soccer Diaries: Rocky takes the Lead" by Tom Palmer" and "The Wolf Trials" by Kiran Millwood Hargrave.

Papercraft activities including puzzles, quizzes and making mini books have been much-enjoyed and regular Library users have filled out questionnaires about reading to help the Librarians plan for the future.

Two Library competitions were launched at the beginning of the week. A treasure hunt quiz involves searching for answers amongst the Library books and on the Library App, whilst creative students can design a bookmark based on their favourite book or character. The best entries will be printed and made available at the Library desk for everyone to use.

CLOSES
APRIL

At lunchtime on Thursday over 60 staff and students gathered in the Library to read simultaneously, setting a new school record. The World Book Day theme is "Read Your Way" so everyone chose their favourite medium - we saw people reading newspapers, eBooks, playscripts, cookery books, graphic novels and audiobooks alongside traditional fiction (stories) and non-fiction (information) books.

CAREER OF THE WEEK

Firefighter

Firefighters respond to emergency call outs, search and rescue incidents and road traffic accidents. They also give advice on fire safety

You can get into this job through:

- A college course
- An apprenticeship

Day to day tasks

Day to day, you could:

- carry out practice drills and respond to emergency call outs
- control and put out fires
- rescue people and animals from burning buildings and incident sites
- deal with natural disasters like floods or storm damage
- manage chemical or hazardous substance spills
- give presentations to schools and community groups
- inspect buildings to make sure they meet fire safety regulations

COLLEGE

You could take a college course before applying to join the fire service as a trainee, though this is not essential.

Courses include:

- public services
- fire and rescue services in the community

APPRENTICESHIP

You could apply for an Operational Firefighter Level 3 Advanced Apprenticeship with a fire and rescue service.

The apprenticeship takes about 2 years and combines on-the-job training with off-site study.

basic firefighting drills
using equipment
first aid
fire safety

Career Progression

All fire services have a programme that lets you plan and track your career development.

You could work your way up to crew manager, watch manager or station manager.

If you're prepared to move between services, you could become:

- an area manager
- a brigade manager
- a chief fire officer

You could also get a Large Goods Vehicle (LGV) licence for driving fire engines.

Most fire and rescue services also run a Fire Cadets scheme. They're typically aimed at young people aged between 13 and 17 and offer a few hours of training each week.

SOUTHERN SCHOOLS BOOK AWARDS

Keen readers from years 9 to 11 represented our school last Friday at the gala presentation finale of the Southern Schools Book Award held at Hurstpierpoint College. Five authors had been nominated to win the award, their Young Adult novels covering a range of genres from horror and dystopia to teenage health challenges and ghostly goings-on.

The evening was introduced by last year's winner, Ravena Guron, whilst former Children's Laureate Chris Riddell illustrated each author's talk live for us to see on the large screen at the back of the stage.

Our students had the best seats in the theatre – one of the many advantages of our name coming first alphabetically before all the other schools! After hearing from each of the authors, Tess James-Mackey's tense murder mystery "You wouldn't catch me dead" – about a school camping trip, which goes horribly wrong – was announced as Highly Commended. However, the most student votes this year were for Clare Furniss's extremely moving book "The things we leave behind", which imagines a dystopian England in the near future following a far right takeover. A very popular winner, judging by the thunderous applause!

Each of our students chose a book by one of the authors at the event, then we joined the long queues to meet the authors and have our books signed, the culmination of a really exciting and enjoyable evening. Well done to Cecilia, Ash, Jasmin, Tatenda and Rose for representing our school and thank you to Mr Dearman, Mrs Passfield and the Library Team for organising the trip.
