

Website Privacy Policy

The Angmering School complies with the GDPR and is registered as a Data Controller with the Information Commissioner's Office (Reg. No. Z6933184).

We ensure that your personal data is processed fairly and lawfully, is accurate, is kept secure and is retained for no longer than is necessary.

What This Privacy Policy Covers

This policy covers how The Angmering School treats personal information that it collects and receives through your use of this website. Personal information is anything about you that is personally identifiable such as your name, address, email address, your location, or phone number, and that is not otherwise publicly available.

This policy does not apply to the practices of companies that we do not own or control or to people that we do not employ or manage.

Information Collection and Use

General

The Angmering School collects personal information whenever a user fills in details via the web form within the 'Contact Us' section.

When contacting us using this method we ask for information such as your name, e-mail address, telephone number and details of your message.

The Angmering School automatically receives and records information on our server logs from your browser, including your IP address and the page that you request.

We use information for the following general purposes: to customise the content you see, fulfil your requests and for technical web site administration purposes.

Information Sharing and Disclosure

We do not rent, sell or share personal information about you with other people or non-affiliated companies except to provide products or services you've requested, when we have your permission.

We will use reasonable efforts to ensure that your personal data is not disclosed to regional/national institutions and authorities, unless required by law or other regulations.

Changes to this Policy

We may update this policy. We will notify you about significant changes in the way we treat personal information by placing a notice on our web site.
